Kentucky Has Democratic Administration.

NO COUNTY UNIT REFERENCE.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 19. (Special.)—President Pro Tem of the Senate Conn Linn is acting governor in the place of Lieutenant Governor Cox, who was called out of the state during the absence of Governor Wilson and Senator Eaton presided over the senate today. Senator Eaton offered a resolution against any bond issue to help out state finances and Linn opposed it. No action was taken. An effort to secure a reference of the county unit bill failed. Senator Eaton was forced to decide against the anti-unit men on the proposition.

In the Senate.
The senate accepted an invitation to attend a woman's suffrage meeting in Frankfort.

It provides for consolidated common schools and the —Little Damage Reported.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 19.—The new passenger steamer John L. Lowry, running between Paducah and Evansville, with 35 passengers aboard is headed upstream under a full head of steam in an effort to reach safety from the gorge. Evansville Appreciative.
Evansville, Ind., Jan. 19.—Thousands of persons, living along the Ohio, are watching anxiously the approach of the ice gorge, which broke at Leavenworth yesterday, and which is sweeping down, crushing everything in its path. Estimates of the damage reach $500,000. Many loaded barges and small craft have been lost.

The Wolfe creek gorge passed Newburg at 9 o'clock today and is expected to pass here soon. The grinding ice can be heard miles. It is feared the gorge will stop at Horseshoe bend below and flood the lower part of the city. Those living in the lowlands on the Kentucky side opposite here are fleeing to higher grounds.

The family is grouped about her bedside and death is expected at any time. Dr. J. G. Brooks, her physician, said today she could not recover, although every effort has been exerted by medical skill. Mrs. Reeves is a member of one of the most prominent families of Paducah and of high social standing, and her illness has caused sorrow among her many friends.

W. F. BRADSHAW WILL ACCEPT PRESIDENCY

Tarbell Laurie, re-elected cashier, and Mr. J. William Rinkoff, assistant cashier.

Mr. Bradshaw is a young man, but well qualified to take hold of the reins of the bank and make it more prominent in financial circles than ever before. As a lawyer he has made a success, and has an acquaintance all over the county.

Mr. Bradshaw announced today that he will accept the presidency of the bank. However, it will not mean the dissolution of the firm of Bradshaw & Bradshaw, as his duties as president of the bank will not interfere with his law practice.

FLOATING DEBT OF CITY SCHOOLS MAKES INTEREST

City May be Asked to Wipe
the Slate Clean Once More.

Board Needs More Than 35 Cent Levy.

SOME ANCIENT OBLIGATIONS.

It is estimated that it will take $72,000 to run the public schools during 1910. This budget has been prepared, and will be presented to the general council at a future meeting. Of the amount $24,000 is expected from the state, while the city will be called upon to pay the remainder, $48,000.

The school board will require over the 35 cents, which will not let the school fund about $35,000. Under the law the schools are allowed only the 35 cent levy, but the council will be asked to assist the schools. More money is needed to run the schools than will be received. There is a floating debt of $6,000, which the school board is anxious to wipe out. The cost of the installation of a heating plant in the Franklin school which amount to at least $3,000.

The board cut the floating almost half last year, and while the debt creates an annual interest account, no payment can be made on the principal this year without depriving the schools. As the same taxpayers, who support the city must stand the interest, it is considered economy for the city to wipe out the debt, which was not created by this board.

CLARK HOWELL IS NOT SO SANGUINE

HE BELIEVES HARMON WILL BE NOMINEE OF DEMOCRATIC PARTY.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 19.—Clark Howell, editor of the Atlanta Constitution and the oldest member of the Democratic national committee in point of service, says the party is in a deplorable condition. "The present fight among Republicans will not diminish their strength," he says. "If Harmon carries Ohio next fall, he will be the presidential nominee in 1912." Howell says the Republicans have been rowing 40 years, but when the election comes they present a uniform front. Democracy is disorganized, he says, and it will take sixteen years to put it into form. He declares he is not for a southern man to head the party in the presidential year, but for Harmon, if he carries Ohio again.

MR. W. E. COCHRAN BUYS OUT PARTNER

MR. A. T. SUTHERLAND WILL RETIRE FROM THE SHOE

Mr. Sutherland will take a rest before engaging in other business, and has not announced what vocation he will follow. However, he will engage in a business that does not require the confinement of a retail store, owing to the fact that his general health has not been good for some time. Mr. Sutherland has several offers and he may remove to St. Louis, but has not decided definitely. He has been connected with the firm for many years and has made many friends. Mr. Sutherland is secretary of the school board.

Republicans to Consider Tonight at Their Caucus What to Do About Congressmen James and Rainey

Our Ollie and Another Democratic Colleague Are Feared For Their Propensity to Make Political Capital.

Washington, Jan. 19.—Will Republican members of the house dare to carry out their threat of striking the names of Democratic Representatives James and Rainey from the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation committee? If they do, and appoint a couple of Democrats of their own choosing, will the minority members consent to serve? In other words, will the Democrats make more political capital out of the situation than they would if James and Rainey were allowed to serve without molestation? These are questions perplexing the Republicans today. The subject will be threshed out at the Republican caucus tonight and on the floor of the house tomorrow.

In the House.
Washington, Jan. 19.—Without debate and by a viva voce vote the house adopted the conference report on the Ballinger-Pinchot inquiry resolution and devoted almost five hours

CITY WINS SUIT AGAINST COUNTY

COURT OF APPEALS REVERSES DECISION IN TAX CASE HERE.

In an opinion handed down today the appellate court decided that the city does not have to pay state and county taxes on the wharf, cemetery and market house. It is quite a victory for the city and will mean much to the city treasury. They are valued at $60,000 and the state and county taxes would amount to about $1,000 a year.

Suit was filed against the city for back state and county taxes alleged due on the fire stations and city hall as well as the cemetery, wharf and market house, but it was decided that only the wharf, market house and cemetery were subject to taxation. City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., took up the suit for taxes due on these and Circuit Judge Reed, who followed an old decision of the appellate court decided that they were liable for taxes. It was appealed and today the city won. About $6,000 in back taxes was involved in the suit.

GRAND JURY ASKS FOR LONGER TIME

JUDGE REED GRANTS REQUEST
—HAWDY HOUSE KEEPERS
MAY BE INDICTED.

Further time was asked this morning by the grand jury, and Circuit Judge William Reed extended the time until Friday. The grand jury has not made the inspection of the county buildings yet, and the report will occupy the full attention of the members. It is understood that the grand jury is investigating bawdy houses, and may return indictments.

Murder was the charge that the grand jury fixed against Charles Turpin, colored. He knocked Hob Wright, a colored rouser, off the wharfboat, and his body has never been recovered. Shelly Ward was indicted on the charge of housebreaking. He was arrested by Patrolman Kirk and Mitchell on evidence cleverly worked up by Patrolmen Smith and Schraeder. He is accused of entering the saloon of Abo Maroffsky, and rifling the cash register. Nine indictments were returned this morning by the grand jury and seven were withheld because the defendants were not before the court.

FORTY GIRLS ARE BURNED TO DEATH IN FACTORY FIRE

Shirtwaist Makers Penned in Building That Lacks Fire Escapes.

Terrible Scenes When They Scream in Last Agony.

MANY JUMP TO THEIR DOOM.

Philadelphia, Jan. 19.—More than 40 girls are reported killed by fire at noon today in the Sheddaker shirtwaist factory. Five bodies have been recovered. Shut off from escape, about 500 girls were imprisoned in the upper floors. Many jumped and were seriously injured. More than 30 have been removed to hospitals.

Five hundred girls were employed in the factory, with only one fire escape to the building. Eight were killed in jumping from windows of the second and third stories. Others it is believed are incinerated in the building.

While the girls were still crowded in the windows the walls fell in with a crash. Fire Chief Baxter declares he believes more than 40 are dead. There is no way of judging the real number of fatalities yet.

The walls cracked and swayed as the firemen desperately fought to get the girls out, making it impossible to make any headway in fighting the fire. Some of those in the upper floors were roasted to death and their cries of agony made the scene horrible.

The fire is believed to have been caused by an explosion of gasoline on the first floor. It leaped up the stairway, cutting off egress, and the girls ran to the front windows, instead of the fire escape in the rear. When they turned and ran back it was too late. It was cut off.

Rescuers were compelled to leave the scene as they could not stand the sights. The pavement is spattered with blood, where the girls jumped. The rear walls and roof collapsed at 12:30, cutting off the girls, who might possibly be alive.

CITY HALL

EQUIPMENT IS ARRIVING AND BEING INSTALLED.

Linoeum Arrives and Elevator Is Expected Next Week—Furniture Not Here.

Linoeum for the offices and halls at the city hall arrived this morning and is being fitted to the floors. Both the council and aldermen's halls are already fitted out with the fine quality of covering. Mayor Smith's office will be on the third floor in the northwest corner of the building. His office will be papered and carpeted and new furnishings will be installed. Everything is complete in the way of improvements with the exception of the lights and fixtures. The electric elevator is expected this week or next. In removing the metal fixtures from the city clerk's old office on the second floor to the new third floor office the vault in the new office was found to be a trifle larger than the old. This will make it more convenient, as extra filings may be installed at any time.

He is said to be badly peck marked, and, it is alleged, is a walking saloon.

ESCAPED PRISONERS CAUGHT IN MISSOURI

Two of the prisoners, Dave Slagle and Robert Craig, who escaped from the McCracken county jail July 10 are safely in jail in New Madrid, Mo. Officers have informed the Missouri officials that the two men are wanted for stealing brass and jail breaking here, if they are not convicted.

SENATOR BATON LAYS THE BLAME

ON COUNTY BOARDS OF EQUALIZATION.

Therefore He Declares There Is No
Need For Remedial Legislation.

RESOLUTION IS ADOPTED ? ? ?

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 19.—Senator Eaton, of Paducah, has found the way to clear the debt of the state without issuing a bond for $1,000,000. He wants the property of the state assessed at something like its real value and then he says he thinks there will be plenty of money raised to pay off the indebtedness of the state. Senator Eaton has no fears of expressing his opinion in the senate regardless of where his words fall, in this matter, however, he quotes the report of the board of equalization. It is likely that his suggestion will be adopted and that there will be no bond issue.

It was hinted today by one of the members of the legislature that within the next few days, a legal proceeding will be started in the circuit court to mandamus Auditor James to pay off with interest bearing warrants, and then this matter will be settled. If the court holds that Auditor James must pay off with interest bearing warrants, then the banks will wait until the money is collected through the increased assessment to pay off the debt.

Senator Eaton made known his ideas of raising money to be used in paying off the state's indebtedness in introducing a resolution in the senate yesterday. It follows:

Whereas, It has been called to attention of the general assembly by his excellency, the governor of Kentucky, that the finances of the state are so depleted that the current expenses of the state cannot be met; that there exists a large deficit in the treasury; that the revenues provided by law and based on the present assessed valuation of property are insufficient to defray the accruing obligations of the state, and

Whereas, It is provided by section 172 of the constitution that "all property, not exempt from taxation by the constitution, shall be assessed for taxation at its fair cash value."

And it is further provided by section 4274 Kentucky statutes (1909) "that the board of equalization shall fix the percentage of assessed value of real property at its fair cash value, and all counties whose average lists of real property fall below such value shall be raised to the same;" and by section 4275 it is further provided that said board is authorized in like manner to equalize the assessed valuation of personal property.

Equalization Boards Report.

The state board of equalization for the year 1909 in its report to the governor says in part: "Inasmuch as no county in the state has listed either its real or personal property at its fair cash valuation as the law provides there was not a single county in the state in which the assessed valuation as returned by the assessor was reduced, and the board of equalization has endeavored to raise the counties showing a lower valuation sufficiently to equal those whose assessed valuation is more nearly in conformity to the law."

Be it therefore resolved by the general assembly of the commonwealth of Kentucky:

That there exists no immediate

After La Grippe

"I had suffered several weeks with LaGrippe. Had pains in my head and eyes. It felt as though there was a heavy weight on the top of my head, until it seemed that my brain would burst. I was so nervous that I could not rest or sleep. When I dozed off I would awake with a sudden jerking of my whole body. Dr. Miles' Nervine, Heart Remedy and Nerve and Liver Pills cured me. A number of friends have since realized the same benefits."

MRS. ALVIN H. LOCKS,
Seabrook, N. H.

The after effects of LaGrippe are often more serious than the disease, as it leaves the system in a weakened condition that invites more serious troubles, such as pneumonia, etc.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold by all druggists. If the first bottle does not benefit, your druggist will return your money.

demand for any remedial legislation at this time; and under the conditions appearing from the message of the governor and the reports of the state departments referred to in the preamble, we believe by an honest and faithful exercise of the powers and duties conferred upon the assessors the board of equalization by the laws in force the embarrassing situation which confronts the state can be relieved without the necessity of resorting to any bond issue or raising the rate of taxation.

OLD FIRE STATION

MAY BE OCCUPIED BY THE
NEWS-DEMOCRAT.

Property on North Fourth Street
Bought by Friedman & Keller.

It is current on the streets that the old Central fire station, which was purchased from the city by Friedman & Keller, will be remodeled and used as a home for the News-Democrat. The fire department will not leave the present building before April 1, and the newspaper cannot occupy it before May or June.

Extensive repairs will be necessary. New floors, a new ceiling and front are needed, but the walls are good. The building is narrow, but is long and will enable all of the mechanical equipment to be placed on the ground floor with the business office. There is sufficient space on the second floor for the editorial rooms.

The building was one of the first public buildings when the city was incorporated. For many years it served as the city hall and jail, but in 1877 was turned over to the fire department when it became a paid organization. It is conceded generally that the city received an excellent price for the site.

LIGHT AND POWER AND ELKS VICTORS

THEY MAINTAIN PERFECT PERCENT AT BASKETBALL.

Three Teams in the City League Are Now Tied for First Place in Columbus.

Teams.	W.	L.	Pct.
L. & P.	2	0	.1000
Elks	2	0	.1000
C. C. & W.	1	0	.1000
D. A. D.	1	1	.500
High School	0	1	.000
Indians	0	2	.000
K. of C.	0	2	.000

Standing in the percentage column was unchanged last night as a result of the two basketball games. The Elks won from the Indians after a hot struggle by a score of 16 to 11, while the Light and Power team conquered the Knights of Columbus 13 to 6. Both games were full of enthusiasm, and were contested bitterly until the final second.

The hardest fought game was between the Indians and the Elks. Both had an even chance for victory. At the end of the first half the score was a tie, 7-7. The Elks played a good game, but the Indians fought like the heroes of old, and for a while threatened to scalp the pale-faces. In the second half the game waxed hot again. The score was tied again, 11-11, but in the last few minutes of play the Elks forged ahead and won the game by a comfortable margin of five points.

The Knights of Columbus team showed some improvement last night, and held their opponents down to a fair score. There was little doubt as to the outcome of the game, as the Light and Power team led all the way, but the players were compelled to work all the time. At the beginning of the second half the score stood 9 to 4.

The line-ups last night were: Elks—Cox, center; Goodman and Sutton, forwards; Martin, Henneberger and Johnson, guards. Indians—Truheart, center; Engliori and Hatfield, forwards; Shelton and Harbour, guards. L. & P.—Pettin-gill, center; Hegburn and Hodge, guards; Simpson and C. Davis, forwards. K. C.—J. Fisher, center; Mulvin and Geckel, forwards; Donnegan and Hunter, guards. The officials were: Laydon, referee; Wilson, umpire; Davis and Craig, timekeepers; Brownling, scorer.

Next Friday night the C. C. & W. and the L. & P. fives will play and a battle royal is promised. The High school and the Indians will also play.

Girls Play Tonight.
Tonight the first and second girls' teams of the High school will play, and some good sport is expected. The girls have developed two fast teams and there is intense rivalry between the fives as to the supremacy. Between the halves there will be wrestling matches and boxing exhibitions between some of the aspiring young athletes of the city.

Passes.
The L. & P. team has several college men in the lineup, and the team will be in the race. The C. C. & W. will have a hard game Friday night when the fives is tackled.

The Elks have developed in great style. Last season the Elks lacked team work as well as spirit, but this season the team has both.

Henneberger became sick last night and had to retire, Johnson taking his place.

Many penalties for fouls and holding were made last night and it continued it will do much to break it up. Some of the players hug the ball like they were on the gridiron.

More team work is needed by the Knights of Columbus before the team will be in the race. The lodge has had hard luck in getting out players for practice.

100 PEOPLE ARE MORE OR LESS INJURED.

Had Railroad Accident Happens in Northwest—Some of the Injured May Die.

Bismarck, N. D., Jan. 19.—Running at a high rate of speed, Northern Pacific west-bound passenger train No. 7 left the track one mile east of Blue Grass early last evening.

The two engines and all of the eight cars in the train, containing 190 passengers, went into the ditch. None of the passengers was killed, but all were more or less injured, more than a score seriously. The injured are mostly residents of North Dakota and Montana, with the exception of a few from Minnesota. It is thought a broken rail caused the accident.

A special train carrying all nurses and physicians in the city was sent from Mandan and returned with the injured today. The injured were cared for in private homes.

The following Minnesotans were injured: D. L. Flechner, conductor, wrenched back; N. D. Lathrop, St. Paul, sprained shoulder; Wm. Hightate, St. Paul, arm and legs bruised; M. T. Johnson, St. Paul, head and head injured; R. S. Coster, St. Paul, head and legs bruised; Fred K. Schmitze, Minneapolis, teeth knocked out; A. Sharkey, St. Paul, head and hands cut; Mary Flagle, Crow Wing, head badly cut; W. W. Tolos, thought to be from Milwaukee, head cut, will probably die; Mrs. August Rierham, of Bloomer, Wis., shoulder broken.

TEN MILLION CONCERN GOES INTO BANKRUPTCY.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 19. — Judge Taylor appointed George A. Garretson, president of the Bank of Commerce, and S. P. Shane, general manager of the Gluehriest Transportation company, receivers for the latter concern, which is a ten million corporation. Each is under $50,000 bond. Poor business is given as the cause of failure. The application for receiver was made by Frank W. Gilchrist, of Alpena, Mich.

The company is one of the largest vessel owners on the great lakes. It owns 57 steamers and four barges. Heavy loans were negotiated in the last two years to enable the company to increase the size of its fleet. Gilchrist alleges the company owes two and a half millions.

He can never know men who will not stop to know children.

MORE GOOD WORK DONE BY QUAKER

Mrs. Lula Hill Reports Wonderful Improvement.

Mrs. Lula Hill, who resides at 614 South Eighth street, suffered for nearly a year from stomach trouble. Also complaints peculiar to her sex. She had a hard time getting her breath, was depressed after eating and generally in a very much run down condition. Had dizzy spells and at times was entirely unfit for work. She called at McPherson's drug store, a week ago, obtained a treatment of Quaker Extract. She used it faithfully, fully, and yesterday she came back smiling and claimed she had received more benefit from the first bottle than from anything she had used during the entire period of her ailment. She wants anyone who is interested to investigate and will answer any question pertaining to her case.

Another report came today from Mrs. Bethsars, wife of the well-known judge, who had indigestion and dyspepsia for quite a while. She has found great relief from the use of her first bottle of Quaker Extract.

These are only a few of the many reports that are received each day and plainly go to show the wonderful curative properties of these famous remedies.

He said he would prove to the public here that the Quaker Remedies would cure where any and all others had failed, and it now looks as though he was beginning to show even the most skeptical that he knew whereof he spoke. If you suffer from Catarrh in any form, Rheumatism, Kidney, Liver, Stomach or Blood troubles, come to McPherson's drug store, Fourth and Broadway, and if he thinks the Remedies will not benefit your particular case, he will not offer them to you. Therefore come with all confidence.

Quaker Extract is also a worm and germ destroyer, removing from the system any and all worms. At McPherson's drug store, corner Fourth and Broadway, Quaker Extract $1.00, 3 for $2.50; Oil of Balm (Liniment) 25c.

CONSERVE MEN SAY GOVERNORS

MANY USE WORD CONSERVATION IN BROADEST SENSE.

Value of Lost Products Would Run Government—Women Could Remedy Falls By Calling Voters' Attention.

NATURAL RESOURCES WASTED

Washington, Jan. 19.—A recent installment of messages from governors of various states on the subject of natural resources was made public by Mrs. Amos G. Draper, chairman of the special committee of the Daughters of the American Revolution, which has in charge this part of the organization's campaign of education. Aside from the testimonials directly to the subject of the importance of the conservation movement, some of the letters are more than ordinarily interesting in their reflection of the viewpoint and trend of mind of the distinguished writers.

Several of the governors entirely omit reference to what is ordinarily understood by the term "conservation of natural resources," and direct their messages to the subjects of morals, training of children and home life.

Gov. Charles E. Hughes, of New York, pays tribute to a very brief message to the general helpfulness attributable to women. His message is as follows:

"Women may help as much with respect to one matter of conservation as with respect to another, and it is hoped that all matters of conservation will engage their interest and support."

Walter R. Clark, the newly appointed governor of Alaska, declares himself more concerned immediately about development of resources than about their conservation. He says:

"Development Necessary."

"Although I deeply appreciate the interest of such organizations as yours in our general welfare, it is to be remembered that in this great virgin country, while not unmindful of the need of intelligent conservation, we are more immediately concerned with the rational and progressive development of our resources."

Gov. George H. Colton, of Porto Rico, addresses himself entirely to ethical considerations. Here is his message:

"I would suggest the following lines along which conservation work could and should be carried on in this island, with a view to the welfare of its women:

"First—Dissemination of the idea that it is greater to serve than be served.

"Second—Care of humanity by scientific effort to check the ravages of prevalent diseases.

"Third—Systematic instruction of mothers as to the proper care of infants and children.

"Fourth—Care and protection of young women by methods similar to those employed by the Young Women's Christian association, and even-

CAUSES DEBILITY.

Here Are Facts Backed Up By a Strong Guarantee.

Catarh causes debility. In our opinion, most people suffering from general debility have catarh. Such cases of debility cannot be completely cured by medicine not designed to eradicate catarh. In every case where our remedy fails to give entire satisfaction we will not charge a cent for the medicine employed during the trial. Now, surely no one should hesitate to believe us or to put our claim to a practical test under such conditions. We will take all the risk; no one else can lose anything by the transaction.

We make these statements and this offer because we know and have time and again proved that Rexall Men-Tone rarely fails to do as we claim. It is not a cure-all prescribed to cure every disease for one purpose, i. e., to cure catarh by assailing the diseased condition in a reasonable, scientific way, which is to employ agents that have been found to have the tonic and alternative power to correct faulty metabolism (disorder of the phlogon) and to stimulate and help nature overcome the cause or causes of catarh. This being done, appetite increases, nutrition improves, weight is gained, comfort of body is attained and life's work taken up with the zest natural to the perfectly healthy individual.

We want you to try Rexall Men-Tone. Follow directions and take it regularly and consistently for a reasonable length of time. Then, if you are not satisfied, come back and tell us and the money you paid for the treatment will be returned without any argument whatever.

Rexall Men-Tone comes in two sizes, 50c and $1.00 a bottle. Sold only at our store.—The Rexall Store, W. D. McPherson, Fourth and Broadway.

nally the erection of an association building.

"Fifth—Care of the home and family by teaching future home makers in our schools the fundamental rules of domestic economy and instilling in them the essentials of family and social ethics."

Gov. Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, writes in similar vein. He says:

Conservation of Men.

"Conservation of men and women is even more valuable than conservation of resources. If the Daughters of the American Revolution will seriously urge a stricter training and a more careful oversight by all mothers of their daughters, there will be less cause for complaint about the white slave traffic, and to no other subject do I believe could your organization give itself with a greater degree of usefulness or expect a larger reward."

Conservation of human life and health is the slogan of Gov. Adolph O. Eberhart, of Minnesota, who says in part:

"There is no field of conservation work in which women may be more helpful than in conserving human health and life. The most important is the care of the health of the child American child, and his health and strength are the very source of American greatness."

Gov. Judson Harmon, of Ohio, addresses himself especially to the women of his own state, who, he says, "can be of very great assistance to amelioration of conditions which tend to send the girls and boys to industrial schools, and to supplement the work of those institutions after the boys and girls have come out therefrom by every form of encouragement in looking for and following up lives of honorable industry." As for the subject of maternal conservation "which this state needs now most in need, and in which the women of the state may play no inconsiderable part," Gov. Harmon refers to a communication from Prof. W. R. Lazenby, of the Ohio State University as setting forth that subject.

Elevate Home Life.

From Wyoming Gov. Bryant H. Brooks sends a declaration that the women of that state are pursuing successfully three lines of social conservation. "First, their efforts to improve and elevate home life and home surroundings both in the cities and country, are very helpful. Second, their great interest in church work improves moral conditions and benefits society generally. Third, our Wyoming women take a great interest in educational work in all grades, and by frequent visits to our public schools and close attention to our compulsory educational laws encourage the teachers and increase school attendance. Aside from these three particular branches, the interest taken in civic improvement generally, as well as along many other lines, is most encouraging and unquestionably beneficial."

Conservation of morality and sobriety is the burden of the reply of Gov. C. H. Haskell, of Oklahoma, in whose opinion "first energies should be devoted to the conservation of the morals of the people of our several states. In Oklahoma, if we can accomplish this purpose by prohibition enforcement, and thus conserve the morals of all our people, their sober minds and high standard of intelligence and energy will accomplish conservation, progress and prosperity in many directions, and build in happiness and prosperity for the future, as well as the present."

Conserve Natural Resources.

The other governors whose messages were given out today speak more especially of the conservation of mines, forests and water supply. Gov. William E. Glasscock, of West Virginia, quotes the state geologists of that state as saying that "we are wasting 300,000,000 cubic feet of gas every day," enough, the governor says, to run many large mills and factories, and if sold at a reasonable price to provide more than sufficient revenue to meet the expenses of the state government.

The waste extends, Gov. Glasscock says, "to our coal, oil, soil and every natural resource with which we have been provided by an all-wise Providence. What can women do to help this great crisis? I answer, assist in calling these matters to the attention of the voters of the country, helping to educate the masses as to the crime we are committing against posterity. Whenever the intelligent citizenship shall have been fully informed on these subjects, then, and not until then, shall we see the evil which exists righted."

The substance of messages from the other governors includes these: (Trapper, of Massachusetts—"A greater conservation of forests and trees would result in our being able to develop very much more water power than at present."

Reclaim Idle Lands.

Potter, of Rhode Island—"Immediate steps should be taken to protect our woodlands from denudation and to promote reforestation on the idle land of the state. We should also proceed to make definite plan for acquiring an adequate fresh water supply in future years, both by protecting our water-lands and by making provision for the storage of waste waters."

Prouty, of Vermont—"The greatest effort in the line of conservation being carried on at this time in this state is looking toward the preservation of the forests and incidentally our water-powers. This seems to us a very important matter, and the last legislature provided for a state forester and for securing lands to be held as forest reserves."

Nonnewell, of Delaware—"Not having any minerals beneath the soil of this state, the only thing I conceive that would be the object of conservation is the fruit I feel that anything that can be done to conserve the woodlands of our state should be encouraged."

Sanders, of Louisiana—"Louisiana has three important conservation problems—drainage, reclamation of our swamp and marsh lands and the conservation of our forests and of our inland waterways."

The one in which we are probably most vitally interested, just at this time, is that of the reclamation of our swamp and marsh lands. The reclamation of these lands will throw open to the settler millions of acres of the richest and finest agricultural lands in the world.

Slann, of Arizona—"The branches of conservation work which especially concern the people of Arizona relate to the protection, development and wise use of our forests, public waters and grazing lands. There is a necessity for educative work directed toward the creation of a healthy public sentiment and conscience on the subject."

Morris, of Montana—"By virtue of my recommendations to the legislative assembly, laws conserving the lands and forests have been enacted. As yet no definite action has been taken toward conserving the water resources of the state. This is a very important problem and I am giving to its solution my earnest consideration."

Gov. Deussen, of Illinois, notes with pleasure the desire of the D. A. R. conservation committee to aid in any feasible way the work of conserving the state's natural resources, and says: "This work has been confided to a state commission, known as the state conservation commission, which will be glad to receive

CHAPTER VIII.

THE abruptness with which Brand separated from Nolan as they appeared aroused the suspicions of both the judge and his lobbyist satellite. However, they little imagined the pronounced seriousness of the conversation they had interrupted. In the mind of each ran the thought that the Advance's proprietor and his editor had been discussing the proposal to elect Nolan to the Oak Door club. Even a failure in this invariable venture they would have considered a serious setback, but probably had they an intimation regarding the story Brand wanted to write and the effort that was to be made to detect the judge in offering a money bribe they would have exhibited less of the easy assurance that marked their re-entrance into the drawing room.

"Mr. Nolan, I'm afraid I must be going," said Bartelmy. "I hope to see you at my house soon, and you, too, Wheeler."

Nolan rose from his chair.

"Judge, can you spare me a few minutes?" put in Brand resolutely.

The judge gave a look of surprise.

"I was the reporter, Judge Bartelmy."

technically the judgment of the lower court in the Lansing Iron case and freezing out the small stockholders in favor of the insiders, as usual. Those, Judge Bartelmy, are my facts?"

"Your office—the Advance! No, no. I prefer you to come to my chambers about noon tomorrow. We shall be quite private there."

"I can't wait that long for it, judge. I've got to have it tonight."

"Oh, is it something of that sort? Well, then, come to my house after dinner."

"But I've got to be at my office," insisted the editor.

"I hardly like to go there, Mr. Brand."

"That's up to you, judge. But if you don't come the story goes to press tonight. Well?" with a rising inflection.

"I—"

Judith Bartelmy entered.

"Will you come now, papa?" she asked.

"Just a moment, my dear. I intended to ask Dupuy to dine with us."

"Oh, can't you take him to the club?" she pouted.

"That wouldn't be convenient, my dear. You know we're going to the opera."

"He stepped back toward the library. "Mr. Brand, I'll see you again before you leave."

There was a moment's embarrassed silence between Judith and Wheeler Brand as the judge disappeared.

"How do you do, Mr. Brand?" she finally asked.

"How do you do, Miss Bartelmy?" His manner was awkward and strained.

"I haven't seen you all winter." She placed her hands on the back of a chair near a settee.

"No, I haven't been anywhere. I've been kept pretty close at work." He panted. "Won't you sit down?"

She moved to the left and occupied the settee. After a few moments of silence she said:

"It's strange I haven't seen you all winter. I suppose it will be another hundred years before I see you again."

Brand looked intently at her.

"It won't be if you wish to see me any sooner, Judith," and, thus speaking, he leaned over the back of the settee toward the girl he loved.

"Why, of course I wish—er— You were having a talk with father when I came in, weren't you?"

"Yes," rising and stepping back from her.

"Wheeler, come here," the girl asked wistfully. "I want to talk to you."

He moved to a chair close by her side.

"Aren't you beginning to realize that you may have been a bit headstrong?" she said tenderly, looking into his eyes.

"I'm afraid you are getting in very deep. Your friends, most of them, have been patient with you so far, but there's a limit, you know, and you'll lose them."

"Oh, Wheeler—"

"She was intensely in earnest—"Is it worth while to let them go just for an idea?"

"A man must act according to his light, Judith."

"And a woman according to hers. Perhaps you don't realize it, but that's what I've been trying to do. You know I've been alone a great deal of my life. I've had more responsibility than most girls. I've had to decide things for myself and the younger ones and do the best I could for all of us."

"Yes, I know that. There's nobody like you, Judith."

"I'm glad if you think that."

"I'll always think that, Judith," he exclaimed passionately. "And I'll always feel all that I've lost."

"Haven't you brought it on your—self?" she asked quickly.

Brand seized both her hands, and in a tempest of emotion, long suppressed, he rose and bent over her.

"Oh, dearest, can't we have this one moment?"—he was aroused to a pitch she had never seen him reach before—"even if we never have another, without thinking of anything except—except each other?" He seated himself close to her.

"Wheeler, I've a little story I want to tell you," she said fondly, yet sadly. She spoke as one pleading in a vital cause. "Once upon a time there was a girl, and she rather liked a somewhat gloomy young man. But one night something happened and then—then they didn't speak for a long time—oh, a very long time. But there were other young men, and one of them has asked to call tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock."

bride with Nolan. Oh, they were a cunning pair! Had even fooled Dupuy, who thought them dangerous. And what a son-in-law Brand would make! Yes, he could have Judith; he was worthy to possess the reigning beauty of a great city. So argued to himself the false judge, and he said:

"Of course I am willing to meet you halfway, but it all depends on whether we understand each other."

"Your decision was doubtless of some value to you, and if I am willing to keep silent about its antecedent circumstances then"—Brand looked the judge in the eye expectantly.

Bartelmy felt relieved. He congratulated himself on the fact that his judgment had been correct.

"Yes; you"—he halted.

"Why?" Brand paused.

"Well?" queried the judge irritably.

"There you are," responded Brand simply, his eyes meeting those of the jurist.

Bartelmy glanced cautiously at the editor, seeking for signs of deception, of a trap, but he found them not.

"Mr. Brand, what do you want?" he asked sharply.

"What's it worth to you?"

"I would prefer you to set the figure."

"No."

"How about $10,000?" asked the judge.

"Yes," agreed Brand, rising—"in cash tonight."

"Rather short notice for such a sum," protestingly. "Where shall I see you?"

"At my office."

"Your office—the Advance! No, no. I prefer you to come to my chambers about noon tomorrow. We shall be quite private there."

"I can't wait that long for it, judge. I've got to have it tonight."

"Haven't you brought it on your—self?" she asked quickly.

Brand seized both her hands, and in a tempest of emotion, long suppressed, he rose and bent over her.

"Oh, dearest, can't we have this one moment?"—he was aroused to a pitch she had never seen him reach before—"even if we never have another, without thinking of anything except—except each other?" He seated himself close to her.

"Wheeler, I've a little story I want to tell you," she said fondly, yet sadly. She spoke as one pleading in a vital cause. "Once upon a time there was a girl, and she rather liked a somewhat gloomy young man. But one night something happened and then—then they didn't speak for a long time—oh, a very long time. But there were other young men, and one of them has asked to call tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock."

PRINCE FIGHTS TAILOR'S BILL

PRINCE WILLING TO PAY, BUT WANTS TO GET SATISFACTION.

Husband of Mrs. Josephine Smith Declares His Trunks Were Seized.

IS FRENCH AGAINST IRISH

Paris, Jan. 19.—Prince del Drago, who married Mrs. Josephine Smith, the owner of the Lion brewery of New York, has just engaged Lawyer Chartier, of No. 34 Avenue de l'Opera, to fight Joseph Cavanaugh's suit against him for clothes supplied to him.

The prince is willing to pay his tailor's bill provided his honor is vindicated and he is granted satisfaction for the humiliation of being sued for the cost of a lot of mere clothes by an ordinary tailor—satisfaction for a humiliation, such as only Le Drago can suffer, having the proud blood of centuries of noted ancestors back to Rudolph de Dragonibus, governor of Alsace, in 1133, coursing in his veins.

But the "ordinary tailor," with the fighting blood of the Irish, that comes from a long line of descendants back to MacMurrugh Neavannah, a great warrior of Lelster, whose descendants have always been regarded as being at least of near royal blood, is as positive of his rights as the proud prince. So it must be a battle to the bitter end between the prince and tailor.

Unfortunately, as the French laws provide no extraordinary practice for battle royals, the ordinary means employed by common mortals had to be resorted to, so the prince retained Lawyer Chartier.

The fight is made against the seizure of his trunks at the Hotel Astoria last September before he left for America.

The prince obtained the release of his trunks by depositing 2,600 francs with Cavanaugh's lawyer, E. D. Bleville. This sum does not represent the amount sued for, but it was fixed by the president of the court as a security for the creditor until the case could be decided in the courts.

The prince does not deny the indebtedness; in fact, he has made a proposition to pay provided Cavanaugh allows him one franc damages, but the tailor, being fortified with letters from the prince, refuses to do this.

A man boasts of his past, and a woman is proud if she hasn't any at all.

He was very serious about it. You see, the girl has been waiting so long that she's beginning to be afraid—afraid that—er— Oh, Wheeler, why won't you drop it all? It's not too late!"

She rose to her feet, still with her hands in his, and in another moment he stood beside her. He threw both his arms around her and held her close to his bosom.

"Judith," he whispered passionately to her.

"Why don't you call tomorrow at 4?" was her response.

As they stood there in fond embrace, her lips raised to his, Judge Bartelmy appeared at the extreme end of the room. He gave a sudden start as he saw their oblivion to all else but themselves. His cold blue eyes shone with the satisfaction that filled him. He had done a good day's work, he congratulated himself. He had arranged to buy Brand's silence for $10,000 when it was really worth twice that sum to a man of the United States judge's wealth and standing. Why, he had originally planned to give Brand twice that sum as a wedding present when he married Judith.

"Mr. Brand," the judge declared, "I will call at your office tonight at 9 o'clock. Judith, I am ready to go now."

The couple drew apart in confusion. She walked away slowly from her lover, her eyes wet with tears. She went out of the room with her father, leaving Wheeler Brand standing in the middle of the room, overcome by the unconquerable sorrow that filled his soul.

The towering figure of Nolan appeared from the library. He stepped toward the editor.

"Well, did you put it through?" he asked.

Brand threw back his head, and his misery was implied in every line of his face. Yet by superhuman will power he forced his voice into steadiness as he said:

"Yes—I put it through."

Are All Advertised Medicines Fakes?

As well ask "Are all doctors quacks?" or "Are all lawyers shysters?" We all know there are ignorant quacks; does that prevent anyone calling in his good, old family physician in case of need and trusting him? There are shysters, but there are also honorable lawyers to whom we confidently trust our lives and fortunes.

There are fake medicines advertised; but they are not fakes because they are advertised. A good thing is worth advertising; we all want to know about it. The more a bad thing is advertised, the worse for it in the end.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is no fake; yet it is advertised; it advertises itself; and those who have used it are its best advertisers, and that free of cost.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved its merit by more than thirty years general use. This simple, old-fashioned remedy, made from roots and herbs, has become the standard medicine for ailments peculiar to women,—its fame is world-wide.

Read this plain, honest statement of what the medicine did for one woman; her own words; if you doubt, write and ask her.

Upper Sandusky, Ohio.—"Three years ago I was not feeling well and could hardly drag myself along. I had such tired feelings, my back hurt, my sides ached, I had bladder trouble, my feet were swollen, and I could not eat or sleep. I had headaches, too, and became almost a nervous wreck. My doctor told me to go to a hospital. I did not like that idea very well, so when I saw your advertisement in a paper one day, I wrote to you for advice. I have done as you told me. I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Blood Purifier, and Liver Pills, and used the Saunty Wash, and now I have my health. We keep your medicine always in the house."—Mrs. Benj. H. Stansbery, Route No. 6, Box 18, Upper Sandusky, Ohio.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test of years.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for her advice—it is free and always helpful.

MILLIONAIRE WHO WORE RED TIES GOES TO REWARD.

Chicago, Jan. 19.—John Farnon, a millionaire and widely known banker, died today at his Oak Park home.

Heart disease is assigned as the cause, but his family retained a toxicologist to make the cause certain. He was sick three days. John Farnon, Jr., died at a special train in New York that cost $3,000 and made the run in 17 hours. He arrived three hours before death. The deceased was noted for eccentricity of dress. For years he invariably wore red ties. Once he appeared in white evening clothes and a red tie.

NO MORE GRAY HAIR.

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made and used a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair, and are fast following suit. The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready to use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. As a scalp tonic and color restorer, this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers, and it can be bought for 50 cents and $1 a bottle at almost any first-class drug store, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

map of the world, which will eclipse in minuteness of detail, and therefore in the aggregate of the product, all previous undertakings in that line. It will present the world in miniature, so far as its physical features and national boundaries are concerned. The contributors to the work will not be the geographers of one country, but of all the leading countries, and the scale is to be one inch for every sixteen miles of the earth's surface with all its land and water features distinctly outlined. The plan of construction will be to split the maps into sheets, each comprising an area of four degrees in latitude and six in longitude. If the whole area of the earth is covered there will be 5,400 of these sheets. The backing of every nation of the earth will be faithful representation of the earth's surface ever constructed. In a way this will serve as a memorial of the men whose discoveries have contributed to our knowledge of the earth's surface from the earliest times up to Peary's recent exploit, even though that may not have been of the largest service as yet in the location of new geographical features. The men who figured in the various revelations of the new world will be the most numerous, though African explorers like Livingston and Stanley will not be forgotten.

not eat less than we do now, as some people are trying to prove, but we put on less style. Style is all right for those that want it. I have no fault to find with it at all, but I wish to remark that it comes high and must be paid for. This increase in style, 'dog', show, display, or what ever you want to call it, extends from the top to the bottom of the scale of life.

"Now, as an illustration, I have a Pole working for me on my place down on Long Island. He has several children. The other day I met the crowd of youngsters down on the place—on a week-day, too, mind you,—and every last one of them was wearing patent leather shoes. That workman of mine has a new $60 steel range in his kitchen and a piano that he got on time payments. Of course I am glad that he feels that he can afford all these things, but in the old days they were not purchased by the people of this means. The children, instead of wearing patent leathers, went barefoot in the summer and in the winter wore heavy, serviceable cowhide shoes that would last them years. Only the very well to do thought they could have pianos, and a $15 or $20 stove was good enough for almost anyone's kitchen.

"When I was younger and had to have things from the grocery store, I went after my purchases. Now the customer of the grocer or the butcher or the baker insists on having his pound or butter, his mutton chops, his loaf of bread delivered at his door. The dealer must charge for his horse, his wagon, his harness and his deliveryman. Someone must pay the bill, and of course it comes out of the goods—the extra service is the benefit of the extra service is the one that should stand for it, and he does whether he likes it or not.

"If people would patronize the little storekeepers in and out of the way corners of the cities they would find that they could reduce their cost of living a good bit. For instance, I bought this pair of shoes I am wearing for $4 in a store down by the navy yard where the rents are low. If I had got the same shoe up on Pennsylvania avenue, or P street, where the more aristocratic do their buying, I would have paid $5 or $5.50 for it. The man I got the shoes from does not maintain a delivery wagon, has no expensive office force to maintain, and has no help except one young man who acts as general assistant, sweeper-out and the boss's understudy.

"The cost of milk has climbed steadily during the last few years because people insist on more style in the manner in which it is brought to them. I am a practical dairyman and I know what I am talking about. In the old days there were no bottles, no pretty wagons, no tubercles, no tests to be paid for. The milk was delivered from door to door by the man or woman carrying the product in large cans or buckets. Now the milkman has a $200 horse, a $250 or $300 wagon, a $75 set of harness on the horse, and stables and aseptic cans, sterilized bottles, pasteurizing apparatus in his storage house, and goodness knows what else to make the cost mount skyward. Every bottle that is broken, every germ-proof paraffin-coated bottle cover that is used, costs money and the customer must pay the bill.

"The same wild race after style is found all over the country. The farmer has got to have the latest and prettiest labor-saving devices. Their rubberized runabouts must be equipped with the last up-to-the-minute trimmings, and pretty soon the $400 runabout goes into the lot of the barn in order to make room for the $1,000 automobile roadster or the $3,000 touring car. As a result of all this style, the farmer must charge more for his meat, his vegetables and his grain if he is going to keep his head above water. One of these days I'm going to get up on the floor of the house and express a few of my views along these lines. I may not be able to increase the visible supply of oratory by the effort, but I'll bet I can give them a few ideas on the real reason for the increased cost of living."

"WHAT A DELICATE CHILD"

is the remark we often hear when referring to little ones whose faces are pale and wan, and limbs thin and spindling.

If mothers in this vicinity only realized how quickly these little ones can be made strong, robust and rosy by our delicious cod liver and iron preparation VINOL, we would not see so many delicate children on our streets. W. B. McPherson, druggist, Paducah.

DOGS GET DRUNK ON FUMES

ESCAPING FROM AUTOS.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Jan. 19.—The Pittsburgh police department, after an exhaustive investigation, has decided that the alleged epidemic of hydrophobia among dogs here is nothing more or less than a plain case of drunkenness among the dogs—drunkenness through the fumes of gas escaping from automobiles. Captain of Police Ford declares he has discovered the dogs became drunk like the chauffeurs who speed. Both get intoxicated, he says, on gasoline fumes. The captain explains that there is a habit prevalent among chauffeurs of drinking gasoline. The fumes from this oil exhilarates the imbibor and gives him nerve to clip curves and corners. The dog acquires the gasoline fume drunk habit through running after automobiles. The dog then gets into the same class as the gasoline exhilarated auto driver and does wild and ungovernable things. The dogs are not mad, they're drunk, says the captain.

READ MRS. HERRICK'S SWORN STATEMENT

State of New York } ss. Rochester, N. Y.

County of Monroe } ss.

Nancy A. Herrick, being duly sworn, deposes and says: When I was a school girl I had a head of heavy, long, dark brown hair, that was so plentiful, rich and glossy, that it was the envy of many of my young schoolmates, and attracted the attention and remarks of strangers. After I was married and as I grew older, my hair commenced to come out just a little at first, but gradually as time passed it came out more and more, and began to turn gray. I was induced by many good reports heard of Sage and Sulphur, to try a bottle. My hair was quite gray and thin on top when I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and you may imagine my satisfaction when I found that it was fast coming back to its natural condition, becoming thicker, darker, smoother and glossier than it had been for a long time. I continued the use of Sage and Sulphur and my hair is now in a splendid condition, as heavy and as dark and smooth as when I was a girl of sixteen. From my experience I believe it is one's own fault if they lose their hair, or let it get gray or harsh. It is now four years since I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and still use it, and my hair still keeps thick, dark, smooth and glossy.

Sworn to before me this 14th day of July, 1921.

GEOLOGICAL COMMISSION.

Organization Will Be Effected Friday—Authorized By Legislature.

Washington, Jan. 19.—In reply to a communication of inquiry, Representative Garrett received a letter from Governor Patterson informing him that a meeting of the state geological commission, authorized by the last Tennessee legislature, would be held next Friday for the purpose of effecting an organization under the act creating this commission. It will have authority to expend an appropriation already made for drainage, survey and other matters specified in the act. This appropriation, however, will not be available until next March. Representative Garrett is interested mainly in the geological commission at this time, because through it he hopes to go as surveyor of the lands of West Tennessee.
